INFORMATION FOR PATIENTS

- Hepatitis delta virus (HDV) infection only occurs in patients with hepatitis B virus (HBV). In the US, over 2 million people have HBV.
- People with HDV may be eligible to participate in a clinical trial for HDV.
- Treatments for HBV are ineffective against HDV.
- Clinical trial participants receive all study-related care and medications at no cost.
- To learn more about clinical trial opportunities for HDV patients, visit ClinicalTrials.gov and search "hepatitis delta" under condition or disease.

To the patient: Please include this requisition when providing a specimen to a Quest Diagnostics Patient Service Center for testing. This requisition is for a patient participating in the Hepatitis Delta Testing Program, sponsored by EIGER and supported by Quest Diagnostics. EIGER covers costs of blood draw, test, and test reporting.

Please contact the Enterprise Account call center (1.866.226.8046) with any questions about the program.
