

EVERYONE HAS A STORY.

Apply today to participate in the next #justB digital storytelling workshop (dates and location TBD) hosted by the Hepatitis B Foundation and StoryCenter. The workshop brings together individuals affected by hepatitis B to learn how to share their stories in a supportive environment. Participants create short videos to help raise awareness, combat stigma and discrimination, and advocate for hepatitis B screening, prevention and care.

*Learn more about our current storytellers and apply for the workshop at:
www.hepb.org/justb*

*For more information, email:
Rhea.Racho@hepb.org*

Participants must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 to attend the workshop. Additional safety measures will be taken and masks will be required during the workshop. In the event that travel and/or in-person gatherings must be cancelled due to COVID-19, we will transition to holding a virtual workshop.

All travel, accommodations and meals will be coordinated and paid for by the Hepatitis B Foundation. Participants will also receive a stipend/honorarium after completing the workshop.

"This storytelling workshop was a true blessing for me personally. Before, I felt isolated and disconnected. After the workshop and getting to know how Hep B has affected others, I feel a great sense of family and inclusion. My true hope is that our stories can change how others not affected view those who are and that more emphasis would be placed on the treatment and cure for this condition."
